Cambridge International Advanced Subsidiary and Advanced Level

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2015 series

9084 LAW

9084/11

Paper 1 (Paper 1), maximum raw mark 75

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2015 series for most Cambridge IGCSE®, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

® IGCSE is the registered trademark of Cambridge International Examinations.

General Marking Guidance

- Marking should be positive: marks should not be subtracted for errors or inaccuracies.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, a senior examiner must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.
- Poor spelling, handwriting or grammar should not be penalised as long as the answer makes sense.
- Scoris annotations must be used.
- A blank space, dash, question mark and a response that bears no relation to the question constitutes a 'no response'.

This mark scheme includes a summary of appropriate content for answering each question. It should be emphasised, however, that this material is for illustrative purposes and is not intended to provide a definitive guide to acceptable answers. It is quite possible that among the scripts there will be some candidate answers that are not covered directly by the content of this mark scheme. In such cases, professional judgement should be exercised in assessing the merits of the answer and the senior examiners should be consulted if further guidance is required.

Mark Bands

The mark bands and descriptors applicable to all questions on the paper are as follows. Maximum mark allocations are indicated in the table at the foot of the page.

Indicative content for each of the questions follows overleaf.

Band 1:

The answer contains no relevant material.

Band 2:

The candidate introduces fragments of information or unexplained examples from which no coherent explanation or analysis can emerge

OR

The candidate attempts to introduce an explanation and/or analysis but it is so fundamentally undermined by error and confusion that it remains substantially incoherent.

Band 3:

The candidate begins to indicate some capacity for explanation and analysis by introducing some of the issues, but explanations are limited and superficial

OR

The candidate adopts an approach in which there is concentration on explanation in terms of facts presented rather than through the development and explanation of legal principles and rules

OR

The candidate attempts to introduce material across the range of potential content, but it is weak or confused so that no real explanation or conclusion emerges.

Band 4:

Where there is more than one issue, the candidate demonstrates a clear understanding of one of the main issues of the question, giving explanations and using illustrations so that a full and detailed picture is presented of this issue

OR

The candidate presents a more limited explanation of all parts of the answer, but there is some lack of detail or superficiality in respect of either or both so that the answer is not fully rounded.

Band 5:

The candidate presents a detailed explanation and discussion of all areas of relevant law and, while there may be some minor inaccuracies and/or imbalance, a coherent explanation emerges.

Maximum Mark Allocations:

1 Delegated legislation can be an undemocratic method of law making.

Describe the different types of delegated legislation and consider how far this statement is true. [25]

Band 1 (0) Irrelevant answer

Band 2 (1–6) Candidates give a very basic explanation of delegated legislation.

Band 3 (7–12) Candidates give a basic explanation of some of the different types of delegated legislation and the circumstances in which each type would be used. Some understanding on why it can lead to abuse of democratic law making.

Band 4 (13–19) Candidates give a reasonable explanation of the different types of delegated legislation and the circumstances in which each type would be used. At the upper end of the mark band candidates make a reasonable attempt to make a link with the analytical component of the question and to explain why it can lead to abuse of democratic law making. Some mention of the controls over the creation of DL. Candidates who fail to discuss controls are unlikely to achieve more than 15 marks.

Band 5 (20–25) Candidates give a clear explanation of the all the different types of delegated legislation and the circumstances in which each type would be used. Candidates make a clear and informed links to the analytical component of the question e.g. an explanation of why the use of DL can lead to abuse of democratic law making and an explanation of how this can be addressed.

Candidates make an attempt to make a link with the analytical component of the question and to discuss the problems of miscarriages of justice. Candidates may include reference to the CCRC.
- Band 5 (20–25) Candidates give a clear explanation of both routes of appeal with good levels of detail on grounds of appeal. Candidates make clear and informed links to the analytical component of the question i.e. a discussion of the difficulties of appeal, a discussion of the problem of miscarriages of justice, perhaps with illustration with case law. Candidates may also discuss the role of the CCRC in preventing miscarriages of justice.

3 Equity is an historical source: it has no role in the modern legal system.

Critically consider the accuracy of this statement. [25]

- Band 1 (0) Irrelevant answer

- Band 3 (7–12) Candidates give a basic and generally accurate explanation of the historical development of equity but this is unlikely to have much case/concept illustration and little reference to the analytical issues within the question.

There will be reference to and definition of maxims, remedies and concepts with some case illustration. However both of these issued may not be considered equally. Some candidates may offer explanation of the training of the magistrate to support arguments concerning lack of training. Better candidates will attempt to include some analytical content addressing the question, but this may be vague, unbalanced and lacking in detail or reasoned argument.
- Band 5 (20–25) Candidates give a clear and very detailed explanation of the qualification, role, and training of the lay magistrate and with good levels of illustration and explanation. Candidates will address the analytical component well, with clear analysis, presenting a well-reasoned and balanced argument and drawing logical and well informed conclusions.
