Solar energy is clean, but can it be cheap and reliable?

Our students learn to become reflective and assess every piece of information for themselves. We prepare school students for life, helping them develop an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning.