About these guidelines

Our brand

Our brand is extremely important and one of the most valuable elements is the Coat of Arms (shield) of the University of Cambridge. This was granted for use by the Scholars of the University of Cambridge by the English Crown during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I in 1573. This symbol now represents educational excellence around the world, nearly 500 years later.

As a Cambridge International School you are being granted permission to use this symbol of excellence but we ask that you treat it with respect and note that permission is granted solely based on compliance with these guidelines.

Correct version of logo

Please note, the logo that we allow you to use is the Cambridge International School version of our logo – not the standard organisation logo. You can download the Cambridge International School logo from our website at: www.cambridgeinternational.org/logos

Your responsibilities

As a Cambridge International School you have a responsibility to comply with the guidelines for use of the Cambridge International logo.

These obligations are set out in the Cambridge Handbook, specifically in Clause A13: If you do not keep to the processes and procedures set out in this Cambridge Handbook, we will be entitled to take appropriate action, which may include:

A13.1 requiring you to take remedial action

A13.2 requiring you to undergo further inspection and quality assurance visits

A13.3 removing your centre's eligibility to enter for some or all of our qualifications, or

A13.4 removing your centre status and terminating any contract we have with you.

The Cambridge International School logo can only be used in ways set out in these guidelines. We do not permit any other use.

You must get approval from us before printing or publishing any item using the Cambridge International School logo (please see page 8 for the approval process).

Frequently asked questions

To help you we have provided answers to the questions we are often asked in relation to the use of the Cambridge International School logo.

May I use the shield on its own?

No. We do not allow the shield to be used on its own because it is the symbol of the University of Cambridge. We do not want our schools to be confused between Cambridge Assessment International Education (a department) and the University itself.

Can I incorporate the shield into my name or school logo?

No. We do not allow incorporation of the shield into names or school logos because it implies a belonging to the University of Cambridge. You are registered with us and are therefore permitted to use only the customer version of the logo we have prepared for you. Please use your own independent identity to promote yourselves.

Can I incorporate 'Cambridge' into my name?

No. Again, we believe this will cause confusion as incorporating the name 'Cambridge' may imply a legal association that cannot be substantiated. We prefer your name to be completely independent of ourselves.

The way I want to use the Cambridge International School logo is not covered in these guidelines – may I use it the way I want?

No. These guidelines show how the Cambridge International School logo may be used. Any situation that is not covered in these guidelines is not permitted.

May I use the Cambridge International School logo on my stationery and in email signatures?

You can only use the Cambridge International School logo on letterheads and envelopes, and it must be secondary in size and position to your own logo. This is to avoid confusion regarding your status as an independent organisation. For business cards and email signatures, please use the line of text below instead of the Cambridge International School logo:
'[Your organisation name] is a registered Cambridge International School'.
