Cambridge IGCSE™ World Literature 0408

For examination in June and November 2020

Changes to the syllabus for 2020

The syllabus has been updated. The latest syllabus is version 2, published September 2018.

A statement has been added to Section 5.3, Paper 3 Set Text.

- Set texts regularly rotate on the syllabus and may change from one year of examination to the next. Before you begin teaching, check the set text list for the year in which your candidates will take their examinations.

Previous changes made to version 1, published September 2017.

Changes have been made to Section 5.1, Syllabus content.

- Requirements for the empathic response assignment have been updated to clarify that poems and short stories may not be used. The text (on page 10) now reads:
Assumes the voice of one character in a novel or play.
Further instructions to help clarify these requirements have been updated (page 11):
Assignment 2 must be an empathic response piece. Empathic assignments will test knowledge, understanding and response, but give candidates the opportunity to engage more imaginatively with a text by assuming a suitable 'voice' (i.e. in a manner of speaking for a specific character) at a particular moment in their chosen novel or play.
- Requirements for the oral response have been updated to clarify the requirements for this assignment. The fifth bullet point on page 12 has been updated to read:
If poems or short stories are being used to discuss a particular theme, the oral response should deal with a minimum of two poems or two short stories.
This is to clarify that candidates should not be expected to discuss a character in two poems or short stories.

You must read the whole syllabus before planning your teaching programme.

Guided learning hours

Cambridge IGCSE syllabuses are designed on the assumption that learners have about 130 guided learning hours per subject over the duration of the course, but this is for guidance only. The number of hours required to gain the qualification may vary according to local curricular practice and the students' prior experience of the subject.

1.3 Why choose Cambridge IGCSE World Literature?

Cambridge IGCSE World Literature will be accepted by universities and employers as proof of real knowledge and understanding. Successful candidates gain lifelong skills, including the ability to:

- read, interpret and evaluate literary texts from different countries and cultures;
- develop an understanding of literal and implicit meaning, relevant contexts and of the deeper themes or attitudes that may be expressed;
- present an informed, personal response to literary texts they have studied;
- explore wider and universal issues and gain skills of empathy, promoting students' better understanding of themselves and of the world around them.

Prior learning

We recommend that candidates who are beginning this course should have previously studied some creative writing (prose/poetry and/or drama) in the medium of English, whether in translation or not.

Progression

Cambridge IGCSE Certificates are general qualifications that enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Candidates who are awarded grades C to A* in Cambridge IGCSE World Literature are well prepared to follow courses leading to Cambridge International AS and A Levels in English and/or other literatures, or the equivalent.

1.4 Cambridge ICE (International Certificate of Education)

Cambridge ICE is a group award for Cambridge IGCSE. It gives schools the opportunity to benefit from offering a broad and balanced curriculum by recognising the achievements of learners who pass examinations in a number of different subjects.

5. Syllabus content

5.1 Component 1: Portfolio (coursework)

This component carries 50% of the assessment of the syllabus as a whole.

Candidates will submit a portfolio of two written assignments AND one oral assignment.

This component as a whole requires study of at least two different forms (poetry/prose/drama), with texts drawn from at least two countries/cultures.

The portfolio as a whole is marked out of 65: candidates will gain a mark out of 25 for each written assignment, and a mark out of 15 for the oral assignment.

The assignments are set by the teacher(s), and internally marked (and internally moderated where there is more than one set). They are subsequently externally moderated by Cambridge International.

Assignments should usually follow a programme of study undertaken by a teaching group. Assignments may be completed at any stage during the course. It is advised that each candidate undertakes more than two written assignments during the course to provide a choice of work towards her/his portfolio, and that the teacher and the candidate discuss which are the best assignments to submit.

Candidates do not have to produce written assignments under timed examination-type conditions.

Summary of the content of the coursework portfolio:

Assignment	Total marks	Requirements
1. Critical essay	25	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 800–1200 words (including quotations but not references/bibliography). Based on one text. * The text must not be on the examination (Paper 3) or the same text as for the empathic response (written assignment 2). (*In cases where a text is a selection of poems/short stories, the essay must cover at least two poems/stories.)
2. Empathic response	25	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 600–1000 words. Assumes the voice of one character in a novel or a play. The task prescribes a particular moment in the text (which may be the end of the text). The text must not be on the examination (Paper 3) or the same text as for the critical essay (written assignment 1).
3. Oral response: recorded conversation	15	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 4–7 minutes. A conversation with the teacher on an aspect of the candidate's chosen text: EITHER the way a novelist or playwright presents a particular character OR the way their chosen writer presents a particular theme. Text may be an examination (Paper 3) set text or a text studied for one of the other coursework assignments. The conversation must be recorded.

In the portfolio as a whole there should be work on at least two different forms (poetry/prose/drama), and the texts should be from at least two different countries/cultures.

See section 5.3 for the set texts for Paper 3.

Written assignments (Assignments 1 and 2)

- Each written assignment must be based on the study of one complete text of world literature. These texts should be equivalent in scope and demand to a set text on Paper 3.
- A written assignment above the upper limit (i.e. 1200 words for written assignment 1, 1000 words for written assignment 2) must not be submitted.
- The two written assignments must be based on different texts. These must not be by an author chosen for Paper 3, and should be drawn from different countries/cultures to that. (For Paper 3 texts, see Section 5.3 below.)
- If poetry or short stories are used for assignment 1, candidates should cover a minimum of two poems or stories. Candidates are not required to compare poems or stories within the assignment, as it is assumed that the assignment is based on the study of a wider selection of poems or stories broadly equivalent to a poetry or short stories set text.
- Texts must not be simplified or abridged editions.
- Candidates within the same centre do not have to submit assignments on the same texts.
- Assignment 2 must be an empathic response piece. Empathic assignments will test knowledge, understanding and response, but give candidates the opportunity to engage more imaginatively with a text by assuming a suitable 'voice' (i.e. a manner of speaking for a specific character) at a particular moment in their chosen novel or play.
- Assignments may be handwritten, typed or word processed. They must be securely fastened and clearly marked with the candidate's name, number and the centre number.
- The full wording of the task, including the character name and chosen moment for assignment 2, must be included at the start of an assignment.
- A completed Candidate Record Card must be included with each portfolio.
- The phrasing of each assignment's title must allow for assessment in relation to the relevant Assessment Objectives.

Drafting written assignments

- A general discussion on the progress of assignments is a natural part of the teacher/candidate relationship, as it is for other parts of the exam. In addition, if plans and first drafts are completed under teacher supervision, then teachers can be reassured of the authenticity of the final assignment.
- Teachers should not, however, mark, correct or edit draft assignment material; candidates can certainly draft and redraft work, but teachers should give only general guidance during this phase.

Checking portfolios for authenticity

- It is the centre's responsibility to make sure all Coursework is the candidate's original work. Where appropriate, candidates should provide references to any secondary source material used, listing these at the end of the assignment.

Oral Response: recorded conversation (Assignment 3)

- In addition to their written coursework, candidates must submit one oral response: a recording of a conversation with the teacher on an aspect of a chosen text, lasting 4–7 minutes.
- This text may be an examination set text (Paper 3), a text studied for one of the written coursework assignments, or a totally different text.
- Candidates should not take texts into the oral.
- The conversation will be based on either the way a chosen writer presents a particular character or the way a chosen writer presents a particular theme.
- If poems or short stories are being used to discuss a particular theme, the oral response should deal with a minimum of two poems or two short stories.
- Candidates should select their character/theme. They are encouraged to research their topic, using print and/or online resources as they work towards their personal response to the writing, but they will not be able to refer to any notes during their conversation.
- Examples of possible classroom activities as preparation for the oral response include drama-focused work and ‘hot seating’ (where a candidate adopts a character from a novel or play and is interviewed by others in the class) and small group discussion. But the ‘audience’ for the assessed conversation will be the teacher alone.
- An audio record of the conversation must be kept. (Where required for external moderation purposes, this will need to be available electronically, e.g. in an mp3 file format.) If the conversation is continuing after 7 minutes have elapsed, the recording should be stopped.
- Conversations which fail to adhere to the lower time limit of 4 minutes are unlikely to meet the higher bands of the assessment criteria.
- It should be remembered that this is not a test of spoken language skills; this is a literature examination, and the two strands of the assessment criteria relate to quality of understanding of the text and the degree of relevant substantiation.

Assessment

- There are separate sets of criteria for the assessment of the three different portfolio tasks. See Section 6.3 Assessment criteria.

Feedback following external moderation

- Centres will receive a brief report from the external moderator following the assessment of their candidates’ portfolios, usually at the same time as the final exam results.

Examples of suitable texts for portfolio work

Teachers wishing to include assignments which are not on texts in this list (or are not texts at an equivalent level by an author listed here) are required to obtain Cambridge International's advance approval at the start of their course, by writing to the Product Manager for the syllabus giving details of the text(s) proposed and the text(s) being prepared for Paper 3. Texts that have been set on Paper 3 in previous years are considered suitable for portfolio work if they are no longer included on the Paper 3 set text list on page 16.

5.2 Paper 2 Unseen

1 hour 15 minutes

This component carries 25% of the assessment of the syllabus as a whole.

Candidates answer one question from a choice of two.

Each question asks candidates for a critical commentary on (and appreciation of) previously unseen writing printed on the question paper.

One question is based on a passage of literary prose (such as an extract from a novel or a short story); the other question is based on a poem, or extract of a poem. The material will be taken from writing either originally in English or in English translation.

There are no set texts for this paper.

Candidates are advised to spend around 20 minutes studying the paper and planning their answer before starting to write.

5.3 Paper 3 Set Text

1 hour 30 minutes

This component carries 25% of the assessment of the syllabus as a whole.

Questions will be set on a range of poetry, prose and drama texts in English translation, or originally written in English.

On each set text there will be two questions: one extract-based question and one general essay question.

Each question carries the same number of marks.

The paper is divided into:

- Section A: extract-based questions
- Section B: essay questions.

Candidates answer two questions: one question from each section. They may answer both of their questions on the same set text, or on two different texts.

This is a 'closed books' paper: set texts may not be taken into the examination room.

Extract-based questions focus on one section of the text asking candidates to re-read a specific passage from the set text before answering. The passage will be printed on the question paper.

Essay questions require a more general approach to the set text as a whole, or a significant element/character within it.

All questions encourage an informed personal response and test the first three assessment objectives. This means that candidates will have to demonstrate:

- their personal response, sometimes directly (answering questions such as 'What do you think?', 'What are your feelings about...?') and sometimes by implication (such as 'Explore the ways in which...')
- their knowledge of the text through the use of close reference to detail and use of quotations from the text
- their understanding of characters, relationships, situations and themes
- their understanding of the writer's intentions and methods.

Texts will normally be kept on the syllabus for three years (i.e. six assessment series).

Because there may be several different translations/editions available, a particular edition is usually nominated for a text. Centres are not obliged to use the nominated edition (unless this is stated to be a specified edition, e.g. in cases where differences between editions are known to be particularly significant), but it should be noted that it will be the one used as the basis for setting the passage printed on the question paper.

Set texts regularly rotate on the syllabus and may change from one year of examination to the next. Before you begin teaching, check the set text list for the year in which your candidates will take their examinations.

The Paper 3 set texts for examination in 2020

Candidates may answer their two questions on one text OR on two different texts:

6. Portfolio assessment

6.1 Marking and moderating assignments

For the general regulations concerning school-based coursework assessment see the Cambridge Handbook.

As well as commenting on the overall quality of the portfolio, recorded on the Individual Candidate Record Card, teachers must mark each assignment, indicating strengths/weaknesses as appropriate, and providing a final comment, making clear reference to the assessment criteria.

Each written assignment is to be marked out of a total of 25, and the Oral response is to be marked out of 15 in accordance with the criteria in 6.2. (The maximum mark possible for the component is therefore 65.)

If a candidate submits no assignment, a mark of zero must be recorded for the relevant assignment(s).

6.2 Resubmission of coursework and carrying forward of internally assessed marks

Information about resubmission of coursework and carrying forward of internally assessed marks can be found in the Cambridge Handbook.

Equality and inclusion

We have taken great care in the preparation of this syllabus and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind. To comply with the UK Equality Act (2010), we have designed this qualification with the aim of avoiding direct and indirect discrimination.

The standard assessment arrangements may present unnecessary barriers for candidates with disabilities or learning difficulties. Arrangements can be put in place for these candidates to enable them to access the assessments and receive recognition of their attainment. Access arrangements will not be agreed if they give candidates an unfair advantage over others or if they compromise the standards being assessed.

Candidates who are unable to access the assessment of any component may be eligible to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Information on access arrangements is found in the Cambridge Handbook which can be downloaded from the website www.cambridgeinternational.org/examsOfficers

Language

This syllabus and the associated assessment materials are available in English only.

Grading and reporting

Cambridge IGCSE results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D, E, F or G indicating the standard achieved, A* being the highest and G the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for grade G. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no result) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

Exam administration

To keep our exams secure, we produce question papers for different areas of the world, known as 'administrative zones'. We allocate all Cambridge schools to one administrative zone determined by their location. Each zone has a specific timetable. Some of our syllabuses offer candidates different assessment options. An entry option code is used to identify the components the candidate will take relevant to the administrative zone and the available assessment options.

'While studying Cambridge IGCSE and Cambridge International A Levels, students broaden their horizons through a global perspective and develop a lasting passion for learning.'
