1. Introduction

1.1 Why choose Cambridge International?

Cambridge Assessment International Education prepares school students for life, helping them develop an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning. We are part of the University of Cambridge.

Our international qualifications are recognised by the world’s best universities and employers, giving students a wide range of options in their education and career. As a not-for-profit organisation, we devote our resources to delivering high-quality educational programmes that can unlock learners’ potential.

Our programmes and qualifications set the global standard for international education. They are created by subject experts, rooted in academic rigour and reflect the latest educational research. They provide a strong platform for students to progress from one stage to the next, and are well supported by teaching and learning resources.

Every year, nearly a million Cambridge learners from 10,000 schools in 160 countries prepare for their future with an international education from Cambridge International.

Cambridge learners

Our mission is to provide educational benefit through provision of international programmes and qualifications for school education and to be the world leader in this field. Together with schools, we develop Cambridge learners who are:

- confident in working with information and ideas – their own and those of others
- responsible for themselves, responsive to and respectful of others
- reflective as learners, developing their ability to learn
- innovative and equipped for new and future challenges
- engaged intellectually and socially, ready to make a difference.

Recognition

Cambridge O Level is internationally recognised by schools, universities and employers as equivalent in demand to Cambridge IGCSE® (International General Certificate of Secondary Education). There are over 700,000 entries a year in nearly 70 countries. Learn more at www.cambridgeinternational.org/recognition

Support for teachers

A wide range of materials and resources is available to support teachers and learners in Cambridge schools. Resources suit a variety of teaching methods in different international contexts. Through subject discussion forums and training, teachers can access the expert advice they need for teaching our qualifications. More details can be found in Section 2 of this syllabus and at www.cambridgeinternational.org/teachers

Support for exams officers

Exams officers can trust in reliable, efficient administration of exams entries and excellent personal support from our customer services. Learn more at www.cambridgeinternational.org/examsofficers
Our systems for managing the provision of international qualifications and education programmes for learners aged 5 to 19 are certified as meeting the internationally recognised standard for quality management, ISO 9001:2008. Learn more at www.cambridgeinternational.org/ISO9001

1.2 Why choose Cambridge O Level?

Cambridge O Levels have been designed for an international audience and are sensitive to the needs of different countries. These qualifications are designed for students whose first language may not be English and this is acknowledged throughout the examination process. The Cambridge O Level syllabus also allows teaching to be placed in a localised context, making it relevant in varying regions.

Our aim is to balance knowledge, understanding and skills in our programmes and qualifications to enable students to become effective learners and to provide a solid foundation for their continuing educational journey.

Through our professional development courses and our support materials for Cambridge O Levels, we provide the tools to enable teachers to prepare students to the best of their ability and work with us in the pursuit of excellence in education.

Cambridge O Levels are considered to be an excellent preparation for Cambridge International AS & A Levels, the Cambridge AICE (Advanced International Certificate of Education) Diploma, Cambridge Pre-U, and other education programmes, such as the US Advanced Placement program and the International Baccalaureate Diploma programme. Learn more about Cambridge O Levels at www.cambridgeinternational.org/olevel

Guided learning hours

Cambridge O Level syllabuses are designed on the assumption that learners have about 130 guided learning hours per subject over the duration of the course, but this is for guidance only. The number of hours required to gain the qualification may vary according to local curricular practice and the students’ prior experience of the subject.

1.3 Why choose Cambridge O Level Sociology?

Cambridge O Levels are established qualifications that keep pace with educational developments and trends. The Cambridge O Level curriculum places emphasis on broad and balanced study across a wide range of subject areas. The curriculum is structured so that students attain both practical skills and theoretical knowledge.

Cambridge O Level Sociology is accepted by schools, universities and employers as proof of knowledge and understanding. Successful Cambridge O Level Sociology candidates gain lifelong skills, including:

- a better understanding of how we become who we are
- the ability to analyse human behaviour within their own society, between different cultures and across different periods of time
- an appreciation of the effects that choice of methodology can have on social science investigations
- the ability to use sociological evidence and ideas to challenge their own beliefs and the beliefs of other people about issues such as equality, education, the family and crime.

Cambridge O Level Sociology is an ideal foundation for further study at Cambridge International A Level, and the skills learnt can also be used in other areas of study and in everyday life.
Students may also study for a Cambridge O Level in other Social Science subjects. In addition to Cambridge O Levels, Cambridge International also offers Cambridge IGCSE and Cambridge International AS & A Levels for further study in Sociology as well as other related subjects. See www.cambridgeinternational.org for a full list of the qualifications you can take.

Prior learning
Candidates beginning this course are not expected to have studied Sociology previously.

Progression
Cambridge O Levels are general qualifications that enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Candidates who are awarded grades C to A* in Cambridge O Level Sociology are well prepared to follow courses leading to Cambridge International AS and A Level Sociology, or the equivalent.

1.4 How can I find out more?
If you are already a Cambridge school
You can make entries for this qualification through your usual channels. If you have any questions, please contact us at info@cambridgeinternational.org

If you are not yet a Cambridge school

Email us at info@cambridgeinternational.org to find out how your organisation can register to become a Cambridge school.
2. Teacher support

2.1 Support materials

You can go to our public website at www.cambridgeinternational.org/olevel to download current and future syllabuses together with specimen papers or past question papers, examiner reports and grade threshold tables from one series.

For teachers at registered Cambridge schools a range of additional support materials for specific syllabuses is available online from the School Support Hub, our secure online support for Cambridge teachers. Go to www.cambridgeinternational.org/support (username and password required). If you do not have access, speak to the Teacher Support coordinator at your school.

2.2 Endorsed resources

We work with publishers who provide a range of resources for our syllabuses including print and digital materials. Resources endorsed by Cambridge International go through a detailed quality assurance process to make sure they provide a high level of support for teachers and learners.

We have resource lists which can be filtered to show all resources, or just those which are endorsed by Cambridge International. The resource lists include further suggestions for resources to support teaching. See www.cambridgeinternational.org/i-want-to/resource-centre for further information.

2.3 Training

We offer a range of support activities for teachers to ensure they have the relevant knowledge and skills to deliver our qualifications. See www.cambridgeinternational.org/events for further information.

Availability

This syllabus is examined in the June and November examination series.

This syllabus is available to private candidates.

Detailed timetables are available from www.cambridgeinternational.org/timetables

All Cambridge schools are allocated to one of six administrative zones. Each zone has a specific timetable. From 2020 this syllabus is not available in all administrative zones. To find out about the availability visit the syllabus page at www.cambridgeinternational.org/olevel

Combining this with other syllabuses

Candidates can combine this syllabus in an examination series with any other Cambridge International syllabus, except:

- Cambridge IGCSE Sociology (0495)
- syllabuses with the same title at the same level.

Please note that Cambridge O Level, Cambridge IGCSE and Cambridge IGCSE (9–1) syllabuses are at the same level.
5. Syllabus aims and assessment objectives

5.1 Syllabus aims

The educational aims of Cambridge O Level Sociology are to:

- promote candidates’ awareness, knowledge and understanding of human societies
- develop candidates’ understanding of sociological methods, including the collection, analysis and interpretation of data
- provide an introduction to sociological concepts, theories and research findings
- stimulate awareness of the range and limitations of sociological theory and research
- promote candidates’ understanding of continuity and change in social life
- encourage a critical awareness of social, economic and political processes, and their effects
- develop the capacity for critical evaluation of different forms of information and evidence
- promote an appreciation and understanding of individual, social and cultural diversity
- enhance candidates’ ability to apply sociological knowledge and understanding to their own lives and their participation within society.

5.2 Assessment objectives

The assessment objectives (AOs) in Cambridge O Level Sociology are:

AO1: Knowledge and understanding
Candidates should be able to:

- demonstrate knowledge and understanding of appropriate sociological topics
- understand the theoretical and practical considerations influencing the design and application of sociological enquiry
- understand and apply sociological terminology and concepts.

AO2: Interpretation of evidence
Candidates should be able to:

- demonstrate an awareness of the main methods of sociological enquiry and their uses
- interpret and apply relevant evidence and data
- show an awareness of different types and sources of evidence.

AO3: Analysis and evaluation
Candidates should be able to:

- evaluate the strengths and limitations of particular sociological studies and methods
- recognise limitations and bias in evidence and distinguish between fact, opinion and values
- reach conclusions based on a reasoned consideration of available evidence
- organise and present sociological evidence and arguments in a coherent and purposeful form.
5.3 Relationship between assessment objectives and components

The marks and weightings allocated to each of the assessment objectives are summarised below:

6. Syllabus content

The content is organised into seven study units, which explore the nature of social relationships, processes and structures. The first unit provides a foundation for the other units of the syllabus by considering the methods and procedures employed in sociological research. Promoting candidates’ understanding of research methods and their limitations is a key component of the syllabus and this underpins each of the other study units.

Teachers should emphasise how different levels of social life (macro and micro) are interconnected and encourage candidates’ awareness of the interrelated nature of the social structure. Candidates will also be expected to recognise the significance of class, gender, ethnic and age differences within societies. Cross-cultural and historical comparisons, analysis and use of examples are encouraged.

The Cambridge O Level Sociology syllabus has been designed so that teachers in any society can apply candidates’ own experiences, local case studies and sociological work relating to their own way of life to an understanding of the central ideas and themes of sociology in modern industrial societies.

Paper 1

Paper 1 comprises three units, all of which are fundamental to the study of sociology and provide a foundation for studying the units in Paper 2. Candidates should study all three units in Paper 1.

Unit 1: Theory and methods

This first unit provides a foundation for the other parts of the syllabus by considering the approaches and procedures used in sociological research. This provides a basis for understanding the uniquely sociological way of looking at society. It underpins and provides an understanding of each of the other study units.

(a) How do different sociologists interpret society?
   • Structuralist and interpretivist approaches; the individual, identity and society.
   • How different views (Functionalist, Marxist, feminist) on conflict and consensus create alternative perspectives.

(b) How do sociologists study society?
   • The distinction between positivist and interpretivist approaches to research methods.
   • The main steps in devising and implementing a research strategy: research aims, selection of topic, hypothesis setting and revision, pilot studies, sampling.
   • Difficulties in implementing a research strategy.
   • Ethical issues affecting the choice and implementation of a research strategy.
   • The main methods used in sociological investigation: questionnaires/social surveys, interviews, experiments, case studies, longitudinal studies, participant and non-participant observation, content analysis and triangulation. Coverage should include the strengths and limitations of each method, assessment of their usefulness in sociological research and awareness of the types of evidence produced.
   • The importance of analysing and evaluating research with reference to issues of validity, reliability, generalisability, representativeness and research/researcher bias.
(c) What types of information and data do sociologists use?

- The difference between primary and secondary data; the uses, strengths and limitations and value of each type of data.
- Qualitative and quantitative data. The strengths and limitations of qualitative sources including historical and personal documents, diaries and media content. The ability to interpret and evaluate evidence from short qualitative sources. The strengths and limitations of quantitative sources including official statistics. The ability to interpret data from diagrams, charts, graphs and tables.

Key terms:

- Bias
- Case study
- Causation
- Comparative study
- Conflict
- Consensus
- Content analysis
- Correlation
- Covert participant observation
- Ethical issues
- Field experiments
- Focus group
- Generalisability
- Group interview
- Hawthorne/Observer Effect
- Historical documents
- Hypothesis
- Identity
- Interpretivism
- Interviewer bias
- Interviewer effect
- Laboratory experiments
- Longitudinal survey
- Macro/micro approaches
- Non-participant observation
- Objectivity
- Official/non-official statistics
- Open/closed/pre-coded questions
- Overt participant observation
- Perspectives
- Pilot study
- Positivism
- Postal questionnaires
- Primary data
- Qualitative data/research
- Quantitative data/research
- Questionnaires
- Reliability
- Representativeness
- Respondent
- Response rate
- Sampling methods/random/snowballing/quota/stratified sampling
- Sampling frame
- Secondary data
- Self-completion questionnaires
- Semi-structured interview
- Social survey
- Structuralism
- Structured interview
- Subjectivity
- Survey population
- Telephone questionnaires
- Trend
- Triangulation
- Unstructured interview
- Validity
Unit 2: Culture, identity and socialisation

This unit considers the relationship between the individual and society and how far humans are shaped by social processes by comparison with alternative influences, such as biological and psychological factors. Questions may also draw on knowledge from Unit 1.

(a) What is the relationship between the individual and society?
- Culture, norms, values, roles, status and beliefs as social constructions and how these influence human behaviour; relativity.
- Conformity and non-conformity; the agencies and processes of social control. Examples of rewards and sanctions applied in different societies and organisations (e.g. schools, the workplace). The formation and existence of sub-cultures (e.g. youth sub-cultures, religious sub-cultures) in society and how these impact on consensus and conflict.
- Diversity and cultural variation in human behaviour and issues related to cultural relativism/multiculturalism. The debate about whether globalisation is creating a global culture.
- Age/age group as an example of social construction.

(b) How do we learn to be human?
- Primary and secondary socialisation.
- Processes through which children learn social expectations (e.g. manipulation, hidden curriculum).
- Main agencies of socialisation (e.g. family, education, media) and their impact on the individual, including the consequences of inadequate socialisation.
- The nature/nurture debate.
- Role, age, gender, ethnic group and class as influences on social identity.

7. Description of components

All candidates will take Papers 1 and 2.

Paper 1 (2 hours)
Candidates will answer two questions from a choice of three: one compulsory data response question from Section A and one optional structured question from either Section B or Section C. The duration of 2 hours includes 15 minutes’ reading time.

The compulsory question in Section A will be based on source material. The question will carry 45 of the 80 marks for the paper. Candidates should spend approximately one hour answering this question. Section A will test Syllabus Unit 1 (Theory and methods).

Sections B and C will consist of structured questions based on stimulus material. The stimulus will take the form of a short quotation or statement. Section B will test Syllabus Unit 2 (Culture, identity and socialisation) and Section C will test Unit 3 (Social inequality). Questions for Unit 2 and Unit 3 have five parts, focusing on understanding, practical interpretation, enquiry and analytical skills. There will be one question related to each of these units. Candidates are expected to have studied both units.

Paper 2 (1 hour 45 minutes)
Candidates will answer two optional questions from a choice of four (Sections A to D). The duration of 1 hour 45 minutes includes 15 minutes’ reading time.

Each question will carry 35 of the 70 marks for the paper. Candidates should spend approximately 45 minutes answering each of the two questions.

Paper 2 will consist of structured questions based on stimulus material. The stimulus will take the form of a short quotation or statement from a sociological source. Paper 2 will test Syllabus Unit 4 (Family), Unit 5 (Education), Unit 6 (Crime, deviance and social control) and Unit 7 (Media). Questions for Units 4 to 7 have five parts, focusing on understanding, practical interpretation, enquiry and analytical skills. There will be one question related to each of these units. Questions may also draw on knowledge from Unit 1.
8. Other information

Equality and inclusion

We have taken great care in the preparation of this syllabus and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind. To comply with the UK Equality Act (2010), we have designed this qualification with the aim of avoiding direct and indirect discrimination.

The standard assessment arrangements may present unnecessary barriers for candidates with disabilities or learning difficulties. Arrangements can be put in place for these candidates to enable them to access the assessments and receive recognition of their attainment. Access arrangements will not be agreed if they give candidates an unfair advantage over others or if they compromise the standards being assessed.

Candidates who are unable to access the assessment of any component may be eligible to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Information on access arrangements is found in the Cambridge Handbook which can be downloaded from the website www.cambridgeinternational.org/examsofficers

Language

This syllabus and the associated assessment materials are available in English only.

Grading and reporting

Cambridge O Level results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D or E, indicating the standard achieved, A* being the highest and E the lowest. ‘Ungraded’ indicates that the candidate’s performance fell short of the standard required for grade E. ‘Ungraded’ will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no result) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

Exam administration

To keep our exams secure, we produce question papers for different areas of the world, known as ‘administrative zones’. We allocate all Cambridge schools to one administrative zone determined by their location. Each zone has a specific timetable. Some of our syllabuses offer candidates different assessment options. An entry option code is used to identify the components the candidate will take relevant to the administrative zone and the available assessment options.
