Glossary

Active learning
Learning which engages students and challenges their thinking, using a variety of activities.

Assessment for learning
Essential teaching strategies during learning to help teachers and students evaluate progress in terms of understanding and skill acquisition, providing guidance and feedback for subsequent teaching and learning.

Backwash effect
The impact of an examination on teaching and learning, by influencing the design of the learning programme and activities.

Balanced curriculum
A school curriculum with a complementary range, combination and weighting of subjects. This normally includes mathematics, languages, sciences, technology, humanities, creative arts and physical education.

Benchmarking
Measuring performance against an established standard.

Bilingual education
Teaching and learning in two or more languages, developing both subject and language knowledge and skills.

Broad curriculum
Every student experiences a wide range of different subjects and learning activities.

Cambridge community
Schools using Cambridge educational programmes (currently about 10,000 schools worldwide, located in approximately 160 countries).

Cambridge Handbook
The official document detailing the regulations for running Cambridge examinations and assessments. It details the responsibilities of centres and forms part of the customers’ contract with Cambridge International.

Co-curriculum
Valued educational activities that support learning beyond the school curriculum, which the school encourages and supports.

Component
A component is an assessable part of a subject examination, not certificated as a separate entity, e.g. a written paper or a practical.

Concept
A mental representation of a class of things. A concept may refer to concrete or abstract things.

Content and language integrated learning (CLIL)
In a CLIL approach to bilingual education, students develop their subject knowledge and language skills at the same time using specific teaching and learning strategies.

Core subject
A subject which is an essential part of the curriculum, typically English, mathematics and science.

An alternative meaning is a subject (like Global Perspectives) which becomes a focus of learning in other subjects enhanced by interdisciplinary approaches and connections with other subjects.

Coursework
Classroom assignments undertaken by learners as prescribed in the syllabus. Normally assessed by the learner’s teacher according to criteria we set. The work is moderated within the school and then by us.
Glossary

Creative development
Enabling learners to develop their imagination and original thinking in solving problems and producing ideas, images, artefacts, performances and actions which have value to themselves and others.

Critical thinking
The ability, underlying all rational discourse and enquiry, to assess and evaluate analytically particular assertions or concepts in the light of either evidence or wider contexts.

Curriculum
An overall description of the aims, content, organisation, methods and evaluation of the learning programme and the factors influencing the quality of learning.

The term curriculum is often used in different contexts and different ways (please see page 5 for examples).

Curriculum framework
The systematic structure of the curriculum as set out in document(s) specifying the way in which learning and assessment is to be organised.

Curriculum mapping
Documents all the interrelationships within the curriculum, e.g. what is to be learned, how and when.

Differentiated learning
Adapting one’s teaching to suit the needs of different learners for their current level of understanding and performance, by providing appropriate learning activities, support and assessment, so that all students in the group can learn effectively (see ‘Scaffolded learning’).

Directed study
Learning in which the teacher as the expert authority sets out and transmits the knowledge to be learned.

Distributed leadership
Builds capacity in schools by giving teachers the responsibility for leading in areas of pedagogy, curriculum development and the social and emotional wellbeing of learners.

Dual qualifications
Cambridge and national qualifications.

Educational aims
Statements of the broad purposes or intentions of the curriculum or learning programme.

E-learning
Learning that takes place using electronic media, for example online.

Exams officer
The person appointed by the principal to act on behalf of the school with responsibility for the day-to-day administration of the Cambridge Exams Cycle.

Experienced curriculum
What students actually learn from their whole educational experience, including both planned and unintended outcomes, as a result of all their activities in the learning environment.

First language
The language that the learner mainly uses, from childhood and at home.

Formal assessment
Planned and structured measurement of learning.
Glossary

Formative assessment
Provides students with developmental feedback on their progress during the learning programme and informs the design of their next steps in learning.

Guided learning hours
The average amount of teacher–learner contact time a school typically needs to allocate for students to be well prepared for a qualification.

Higher education
Courses in universities and colleges beyond upper secondary school, e.g. degrees.

Impact
The effect that one thing has on another thing. In schools, this could be the effect a new marking technique has on student progress.

Inclusion
Refers to integrating learners in the regular school system (and class) as opposed to placing a learner in a special school or class. Learners with special educational needs are provided with the technical, assistive or personal support needed.

Interpersonal skills
Skills used to interact effectively with people on a day-to-day basis, e.g. communication, empathy.

Intrapersonal skills
Skills used to reflect on, manage and develop your own thinking, behaviour and progress.

Long-term planning
Preparation for learners' progress and development over a year or more.

Management cycle
An iterative process in which school leaders set goals, implement actions, monitor and evaluate progress and outcomes in relation to the school’s strategic plan.

Metacognition
In simple terms, metacognition is being aware of and in control of one's own mental processes.

Mission statement
A formal statement of the education purpose of the school.

Moderation
The process of checking that assessment standards have been applied correctly, consistently and fairly, and making adjustments if necessary to make sure all assessments are aligned to the standards.

Multi-levelling
Assessments specifically targeted at different levels of ability.

Multilingual curriculum
Specifies subjects that will be taught in either English or the native language(s).

Non-staged assessment
All the assessment components are taken in one examination series.

Partnership in learning
Active and sustained cooperation between individuals and between institutions to achieve clear shared aims and objectives.

Pedagogy
The theory and practice of teaching and learning.

Pre-university qualifications
Provide the preparation and recognition for entry into higher education, e.g. Cambridge International A Levels.
Glossary

Professional development (PD)
Teachers continuously and systematically reflect on and improve their professional thinking and practice, engaging in appropriate learning opportunities to improve and upgrade their knowledge and skills.

Programme of study
A planned schedule of teaching and learning activities, relating to the curriculum framework and qualification.

Progression route
Movement of the student from one stage of learning to another in a systematic and planned sequence.

Psychomotor development
Learning and developing skills incorporating physical movement and coordination.

Qualification
The formal certificated recognition of a student’s achievement at the end of a particular course, based on successful performance demonstrated through assessed evidence.

Reflective practice
The process through which the teacher continuously learns from the experience of planning, practice, assessment and evaluation. It can improve the quality of teaching and learning over time.

Scaffolded learning
The teacher provides appropriate guidance and support to enable students to build on their current level of understanding progressively to acquire confidence and independence in using new knowledge or skill.

Scheme of assessment
The set of examination components through which a learner’s achievement in relation to a particular qualification is determined.

Scheme of work
A set of planned units of learning relating to a topic, subject or stage.

School curriculum
Refers to the combination of subjects studied within a school year and in sequential years as the learner moves through the educational system provided by the school.

Second language
A language other than the national or official language of a country.

Self-regulation
The ability to monitor and control our own thoughts, emotions and behaviour.

Shared subject curriculum
Students study selected subjects in both the first language and in English, which could lead to the awarding of both national and Cambridge qualifications.

Spiral approach
Areas of learning are revisited systematically within a planned curriculum so that the learner can engage in more depth and detail and acquire related knowledge and skills.

Split curriculum
Students study two curricula: some subjects are studied as part of the national curriculum and others as part of an international curriculum.

Staged assessment
Assessments are arranged throughout the period of learning.

Student-centred learning
In designing the learning activities, the teacher focuses on the needs, abilities and interests of the learner in relation to the learning outcomes.
Glossary

Subject curriculum
The content and skills contained within a syllabus applied across sequential stages of student learning. These stages normally refer to school year levels, and therefore a particular age of learner.

Teacher support
The framework of courses, resources and guidance that we provide to help teachers develop their understanding of and practice with Cambridge programmes.

Timetable
A schedule listing the times and durations of lessons across a specific period of time, often a week. This is sometimes referred to as the teaching schedule.

Vision
The school’s vision is a compelling sense of the future direction of the school that should be widely shared and inspire commitment.

Zone of proximal development
The difference between what a learner can achieve when they receive expert support and what they can achieve independently.
