Team Project

With your support and guidance, learners work as a team (of three or four learners) to identify local issues, related to one of the programme topics that they would like to improve, change or resolve.

They explore different local perspectives about these issues in order to identify one issue to focus on. The team conducts research on their chosen issue which is used to set a goal to improve, change or resolve the local issue. The team then agrees on a course of action to take which is likely to achieve this goal.

This course of action will be communicated in the Evidence of Action. Once the team have implemented the course of action, the learners in each team work collaboratively to complete a Team Report. Each learner also produces a Personal Reflection, which is written independently.

The Team Project involves three pieces of work:

- Evidence of Action (9 marks) submitted as a team
- Team Report (5 marks) submitted as a team
- Personal Reflection (10 marks) submitted by each learner

In addition, learners will be assessed on their collaboration through teacher observation. Teachers award a mark for the team as a whole and for the contribution of each individual learner:

- Team observation (2 marks) for the team
- Individual observation (4 marks) for each learner

Assessment overview

With their teacher’s support and guidance, learners work as a team (of three or four learners) to identify a local issue in their community that they would like to improve, change or resolve. Each team of learners conducts research on the issue and identifies, explores and explains different perspectives (personal, local/national and/or global) on their chosen issue. They use their research to set a goal to improve, change or resolve the local issue, and agree and take a course of action which is likely to achieve this goal. The course of action should include both planning and doing an action.

Teachers mark the Team Project and Cambridge International moderates the marking.

While learners are working in their teams, their teacher observes their collaboration and gives a mark for the team and a mark for each individual.

Once each team has implemented their course of action, the team members work collaboratively to provide an Evidence of Action (which shows what they have done) and a Team Report (where they write about their project together). Each learner also produces a Personal Reflection, which is written independently.
