

Supporting teaching and learning when school is closed

Cambridge Assessment
International Education

Find a range of resources to help you deliver teaching and learning outside the classroom at www.cambridgeinternational.org/teaching-and-learning-when-school-is-closed

Bookmark this page and check back regularly for new resources.
Share the link with others too.

Tools to support remote teaching and learning

Discover online tools you can use to enhance teaching and learning and keep classes talking, sharing and collaborating.

Resources for you and your learners

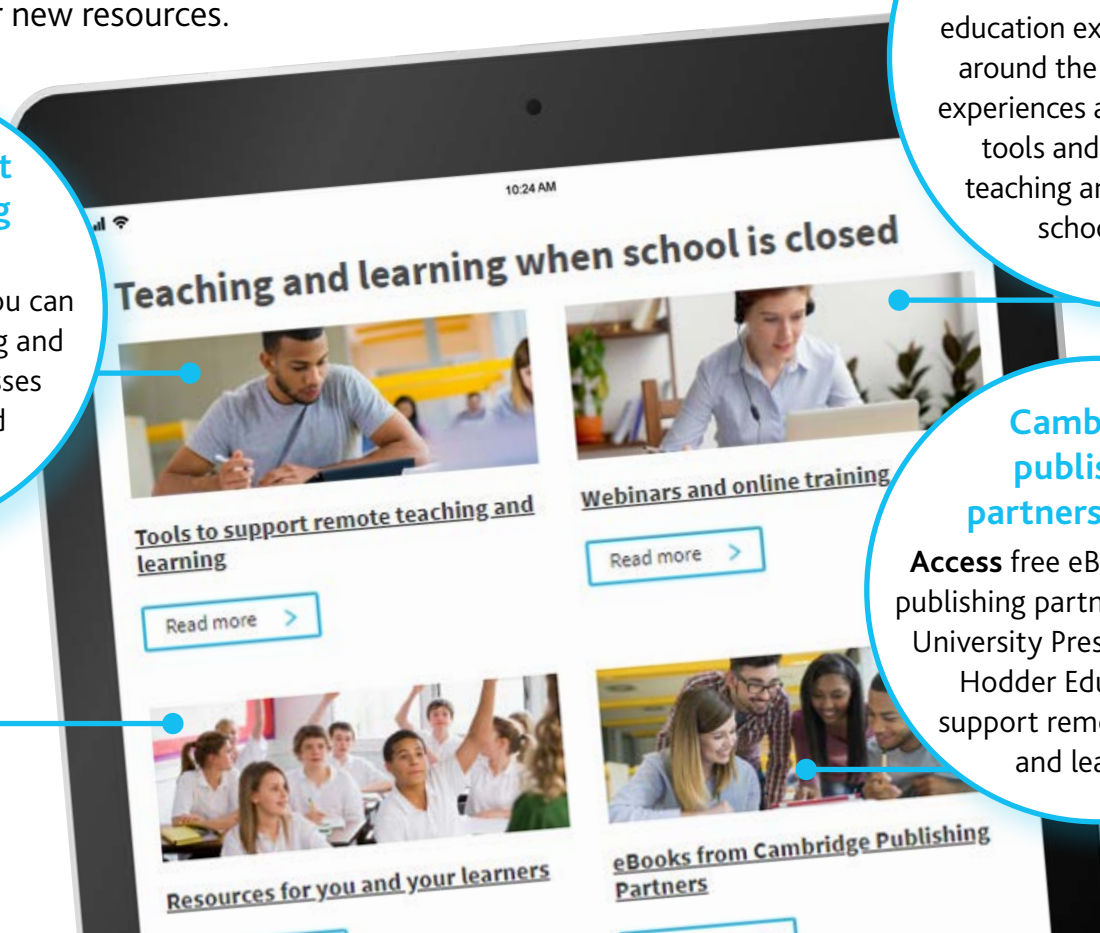

Find tips for teaching and learning remotely, alongside guides to help with common challenges like group work and encouraging student voice.

Webinars and online training

Listen to webinars with education experts and teachers around the world, who share experiences and highlight useful tools and approaches for teaching and learning when school is closed.

Cambridge publishing partners eBooks

Access free eBooks from our publishing partners, Cambridge University Press, Collins, and Hodder Education, to support remote teaching and learning.

Visit our temporary online community, dedicated to the subject of teaching and learning remotely while school is closed. Use this space to support, and learn from, other teachers by sharing experiences, challenges, ideas and resources.

