

Supporting you to meet syllabus requirements in the March 2021 exam series

You should try to complete all components according to the syllabus requirements. If this is not possible, we can support you in the following ways:

Support available

- You can look at advice on how you can adapt your teaching to meet the demands of the syllabus – including whether you can submit or record candidates' work digitally
- You can apply for our standard special considerations
- For Cambridge IGCSE Literature in English, you can apply for a component exemption

Cambridge IGCSE, IGCSE 9-1 and Cambridge O level

Creative and professional	English language and literature	Humanities and social sciences	Languages	Mathematics	Sciences
Accounting	First Language English	Economics	Languages: speaking tests WITHOUT confidential material	Mathematics	Biology
Art & Design	Literature in English	Geography	Languages: speaking tests WITH confidential material	Additional Mathematics	Chemistry
Business studies	Second Language English – speaking endorsement	Global Perspectives	Languages: separately endorsed speaking tests	International Mathematics	Environmental Management
Computer science		History			Physics
Information & Communication Technology					Combined Science
					Co-ordinated Science

Support available

- You can look at advice on how you can adapt your teaching to meet the demands of the syllabus – including whether you can submit or record candidates' work digitally
- You can apply for our standard special considerations

Cambridge International AS & A Level

Creative and professional	English language and literature	Humanities and social sciences	Mathematics	Sciences
Accounting	English Language	Economics	Mathematics	Biology
Art & Design	Literature in English	Global Perspectives		Chemistry
Business studies	English General Paper	History		Physics
Information Technology		Psychology
		Sociology
		Cambridge International Project Qualification

Learn more! You can find out more detailed information about the support available at: www.cambridgeinternational.org/march-adjustments