Understand your learners' attitudes and behaviours to help them thrive.

A learner's attitudes and behaviours can be as important as their subject knowledge for progress and wellbeing at school.

CPSQ is a psychometric assessment, which gives you fast, in-depth, and objective insight into these areas. It helps you apply a holistic approach to your learners' development.

It's suitable for learners over 14 years old and can be taken online via desktop, mobile, or tablet either in school or at home only taking around 30 minutes to complete.

Developed in liaison with educational institutions, CPSQ gives insight into five competency areas: thinking, study, coping, communication, and collaboration.

Our instant reporting provides personalised feedback, outlining a learner's strengths and areas for improvement.

CPSQ can be used in classroom activities, or as part of individual student support.

Helping you to uncover hidden barriers to achievement and wellbeing, motivate learner interest in personal development, focus learner support and mentoring programmes, and open up conversations using a shared language.

Learn more about how you can enhance your school's approach to personal development with CPSQ.