Encourage your child to develop future-ready skills and help shape our thinking

Dear Parent or Carer

We are delighted to invite your child to join the Cambridge Student Advisory Council - a global community designed to give students aged 16+ a voice in shaping the future of education.

By taking part, your child can build confidence, develop valuable skills and connect with peers from other Cambridge International Schools around the world. They will also receive a Certificate of Participation for the activities they join, helping to strengthen their CV or resumé and support future applications.

Through a range of guided activities, including online research, virtual focus groups, panel discussions and expert Q&As, your child can share their perspectives on real topics that inform our research, thinking and development.

Participation is flexible, optional and designed to fit around existing commitments. It takes place in a safe, moderated environment, with full parental consent processes in place.
