1. Introduction

1.1 Why choose Cambridge?

Cambridge International Examinations is part of the University of Cambridge. We prepare school students for life, helping them develop an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning. Our international qualifications are recognised by the world's best universities and employers, giving students a wide range of options in their education and career. As a not-for-profit organisation, we devote our resources to delivering high-quality educational programmes that can unlock learners' potential.

Our programmes set the global standard for international education. They are created by subject experts, are rooted in academic rigour, and provide a strong platform for progression. Over 10 000 schools in 160 countries work with us to prepare nearly a million learners for their future with an international education from Cambridge.

Cambridge learners

Cambridge programmes and qualifications develop not only subject knowledge but also skills. We encourage Cambridge learners to be:

- confident in working with information and ideas – their own and those of others
- responsible for themselves, responsive to and respectful of others
- reflective as learners, developing their ability to learn
- innovative and equipped for new and future challenges
- engaged intellectually and socially, ready to make a difference.

Recognition

Cambridge IGCSE is recognised by leading universities and employers worldwide, and is an international passport to progression and success. It provides a solid foundation for moving on to higher level studies. Learn more at www.cie.org.uk/recognition

Support for teachers

A wide range of materials and resources is available to support teachers and learners in Cambridge schools. Resources suit a variety of teaching methods in different international contexts. Through subject discussion forums and training, teachers can access the expert advice they need for teaching our qualifications. More details can be found in Section 2 of this syllabus and at www.cie.org.uk/teachers

Support for exams officers

Exams officers can trust in reliable, efficient administration of exams entries and excellent personal support from our customer services. Learn more at www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers

Our systems for managing the provision of international qualifications and education programmes for learners aged 5 to 19 are certified as meeting the internationally recognised standard for quality management, ISO 9001:2008. Learn more at www.cie.org.uk/ISO9001

1.2 Why choose Cambridge IGCSE?

Cambridge IGCSEs are international in outlook, but retain a local relevance. The syllabuses provide opportunities for contextualised learning and the content has been created to suit a wide variety of schools, avoid cultural bias and develop essential lifelong skills, including creative thinking and problem-solving.

Our aim is to balance knowledge, understanding and skills in our programmes and qualifications to enable students to become effective learners and to provide a solid foundation for their continuing educational journey.

Through our professional development courses and our support materials for Cambridge IGCSEs, we provide the tools to enable teachers to prepare learners to the best of their ability and work with us in the pursuit of excellence in education.

Cambridge IGCSEs are considered to be an excellent preparation for Cambridge International AS and A Levels, the Cambridge AICE (Advanced International Certificate of Education) Group Award, Cambridge Pre-U, and other education programmes, such as the US Advanced Placement program and the International Baccalaureate Diploma programme. Learn more about Cambridge IGCSEs at www.cie.org.uk/cambridgesecundary2

Guided learning hours

Cambridge IGCSE syllabuses are designed on the assumption that learners have about 130 guided learning hours per subject over the duration of the course, but this is for guidance only. The number of hours required to gain the qualification may vary according to local curricular practice and the learners' prior experience of the subject.

1.3 Why choose Cambridge IGCSE Pakistan Studies?

Cambridge IGCSE Pakistan Studies is accepted by universities and employers as proof of knowledge and understanding.

The Cambridge IGCSE Pakistan Studies syllabus introduces candidates to the country's history, environment and development. This syllabus will give candidates not just a balanced understanding of the heritage and history of Pakistan, but also an awareness of the challenges and opportunities facing this important state. Simultaneously, the course will also develop core transferable skills in interpreting and analysing a variety of sources of information, in evaluating a range of evidence and in drawing conclusions. Such skills provide a firm foundation for more advanced study in secondary school and in higher education, to say nothing of their value as preparation for future employment in a wide range of occupations and professions.

Cambridge IGCSE Pakistan Studies is one of the suite of area studies offered by Cambridge.

Prior learning

Candidates beginning this course are not expected to have studied Pakistan Studies previously.

Progression

Cambridge IGCSE Certificates are general qualifications that enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Candidates who are awarded grades A* to C in Cambridge IGCSE Pakistan Studies are well prepared to follow courses leading to Cambridge International AS and A Level in related subjects, or the equivalent.

1.4 Cambridge ICE (International Certificate of Education)

Cambridge ICE is a group award for Cambridge IGCSE. It gives schools the opportunity to benefit from offering a broad and balanced curriculum by recognising the achievements of learners who pass examinations in a number of different subjects.

Learn more about Cambridge ICE at www.cie.org.uk/cambridgesecondary2

1.5 How can I find out more?

If you are already a Cambridge school

You can make entries for this qualification through your usual channels. If you have any questions, please contact us at info@cie.org.uk

If you are not yet a Cambridge school

Learn about the benefits of becoming a Cambridge school at www.cie.org.uk/startcambridge. Email us at info@cie.org.uk to find out how your organisation can register to become a Cambridge school.

2. Teacher support

2.1 Support materials

We send Cambridge syllabuses, past question papers and examiner reports to cover the last examination series to all Cambridge schools.

You can also go to our public website at www.cie.org.uk/igcse to download current and future syllabuses together with specimen papers or past question papers and examiner reports from one series.

For teachers at registered Cambridge schools a range of additional support materials for specific syllabuses is available from Teacher Support, our secure online support for Cambridge teachers. Go to <http://teachers.cie.org.uk> (username and password required).

2.2 Endorsed resources

We work with publishers providing a range of resources for our syllabuses including print and digital materials. Resources endorsed by Cambridge go through a detailed quality assurance process to ensure they provide a high level of support for teachers and learners.

We have resource lists which can be filtered to show all resources, or just those which are endorsed by Cambridge. The resource lists include further suggestions for resources to support teaching.

2.3 Training

We offer a range of support activities for teachers to ensure they have the relevant knowledge and skills to deliver our qualifications. See www.cie.org.uk/events for further information.

Availability

This syllabus is examined in the June examination series.

This syllabus is available to private candidates.

Detailed timetables are available from www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers

Centres in the UK that receive government funding are advised to consult the Cambridge website www.cie.org.uk for the latest information before beginning to teach this syllabus.

Combining this with other syllabuses

Candidates can combine this syllabus in an examination series with any other Cambridge syllabus, except:

- syllabuses with the same title at the same level
- 2059 Cambridge O Level Pakistan Studies.

Please note that Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International Level 1/Level 2 Certificate and Cambridge O Level syllabuses are at the same level.

5. Syllabus aims and assessment objectives

5.1 Syllabus aims

The Cambridge IGCSE Pakistan Studies syllabus is divided into two:

The history and culture of Pakistan

This part of the syllabus aims to provide insights into the origins, creation and development of Pakistan, and encourages discussion of issues facing Pakistan. It aims to enable candidates to:

- acquire knowledge and understanding of the human past

- show a very limited awareness and understanding of issues relating to the history, culture and environment of Pakistan
- make some decisions about views and evidence, but these will be of a limited nature and coherence
- communicate knowledge, understanding and decisions poorly.

6. Syllabus content

Paper 1 The history and culture of Pakistan

Note

The syllabus content for Paper 1 is divided into three sections:

- Cultural and historical background to the Pakistan Movement
- The emergence of Pakistan 1906–47
- Nationhood 1947–99.

The material within each section is inter-related. Different parts of individual exam questions may require knowledge of more than one item within a section, and the demonstration of understanding and analysis of these relationships. The importance of and the attention that needs to be given to each item in teaching varies according to its significance and the amount of information available.

1. Cultural and historical background to the Pakistan Movement

Key Question 1: How successful were the religious thinkers in spreading Islam in the sub-continent during the 18th and 19th centuries?

Paper 2 The environment of Pakistan

Notes

Themes across the Paper 2 syllabus topics

It is important to note that for each topic, the importance to the people, country and development of Pakistan of the following themes should be considered, where relevant:

- The problems and opportunities for Pakistan as a developing country

There are many problems for Pakistan as a developing country. Trying to compete for trade is an obvious disadvantage for any developing country. The development of manufacturing industries requires huge amounts of money. Pakistan spends more than it earns and this results in Pakistan becoming burdened by serious debt.

- Effects on the environment and the importance of conserving the environment

Every human activity has consequences for both the natural and the human environment. Irrigation has changed parts of the Cholistan and Thal deserts into farmland; all farmland in Sindh was previously desert. Poor farming practices when using irrigation have further changed some areas, through waterlogging and salinity, with a consequent damaging effect on both natural and human environments. Soils are being eroded and pollution is affecting water supplies. There is more pressure on the environment from the need for development. Transport, processing and manufacturing are seriously polluting the air, especially in most of the cities of Pakistan. It is expensive to reduce pollution, and to do so uses money needed for other developments.

- The promotion and importance of sustainable development

It is important that Pakistan's development is sustainable. 'Sustainable development' for Pakistan means that it must aim to improve the quality of life for its people in such ways that future generations will also benefit from the resources that Pakistan has.

- The importance of feasibility studies

The understanding of feasibility involves a consideration of the advantages and disadvantages of a proposed development.

Too many projects are planned without a proper feasibility study being carried out beforehand, and fail as a consequence. The Nooriabad and Hab industrial estates are both struggling because they were placed in areas with inadequate water supplies. A proper feasibility study would have identified this as a reason to:

either delay the projects until sufficient water supplies could be provided or reject the project, if providing an adequate supply of water was impossible or limit the size of the project to fit the amount of water available.

Whether a new dam is to be built, a forest planted, a mine developed, a cash crop farm developed, a factory built, a hotel built, an airport or a road built, and whether a project is large, medium or small, a feasibility study is vital before any plan for its site and/or size/scope and/or route is drawn up and decisions are taken.

Guidance on planning for teachers

The syllabus content is intended to give guidance to teachers when devising their scheme of work and when planning individual lessons. It does not represent a definitive scheme of work or set a limit to what teachers may include in their own scheme of work. Teachers may, for sound educational reasons, wish to teach some topics more comprehensively than will be required in order to answer any question set in an examination.

Teachers are advised to plan their scheme of work to produce as much cohesion as possible between the topics in sections 1–8. In this way, candidates will achieve not only a sound knowledge of each topic but, equally important, an understanding of the inter-relationships which exist between them.

Examples of these inter-relationships include:

- natural topographical features, climate and population density
- cash crop farming, cotton production, agricultural raw materials, processing and manufacturing, transport and export
- large-scale manufacturing and the distribution of population
- floods, water for irrigation, industrial and domestic use and hydel power including multi-purpose schemes.

Subject-specific vocabulary

Teachers should ensure that their candidates acquire, and are able to use, the specialist vocabulary required for this subject. Attention must be paid to the definition of terms specified in the syllabus.

Use of resources

Whenever possible, teaching should incorporate the use of diagrams, graphs, statistical tables, maps, newspaper articles and other written material, photographs and the many resources available via the internet. Teachers should demonstrate to their candidates the importance of such resources in providing information about the environment of Pakistan, and help the candidates to use them to develop their understanding.

Use of the internet

Candidates should be encouraged to use the internet to access a wider and more up-to-date range of information than is available via textbooks, both in class and in their own studies. URLs to some suggested websites can be found in the resource lists on the Cambridge website.

1. The land of Pakistan

a) Location of Pakistan

Candidates should be able to identify the following on a map:

- the Tropic of Cancer, latitudes 30°N, 36°N, longitudes 64°E, 70°E and 76°E
- the Arabian Sea
- the countries sharing a border with Pakistan, and Pakistan's position in relation to others in South and Central Asia.

b) Location of provinces and cities

Candidates should be able to identify the following on a map:

- the provinces, Northern Areas (Gilgit–Baltistan) and FATA
- named cities: Islamabad, Muree, Rawalpindi, Gujranwala, Lahore, Faisalabad, Multan, Sialkot, Peshawar, Chitral, Gilgit, Hyderabad, Karachi, Quetta and Gwadar.

c) The natural topography, including drainage

Candidates should be able to identify the following on a map:

- named landforms: Balochistan Plateau, Sulaiman Range, Safed Koh, Potwar Plateau, Salt Range, Hindu Kush, Karakoram and Himalaya mountain ranges
- named rivers: Indus, Jhelum, Chenab, Ravi, Sutlej, Kabul, Hab and Dasht
- named deserts: Thar, Thal and Kharan.

Candidates should be able to:

- use the appropriate vocabulary when describing the distinguishing features of mountains, plateaux, floodplains and deserts (knowledge of the formation of the natural topography of Pakistan is not required)
- identify and name the above features on a photograph or drawing
- understand the influence of the natural topography on human activities:
 - steep slopes and flat land on the way that the land is used
 - mountains and deserts on the road and rail networks.

d) Climate

Candidates should:

- know the distribution of temperature and rainfall, including monsoon, depressions and convectional rain
- know seasonal and regional variations, and the factors contributing to them, including depressions, thunderstorms and cyclones (typhoons)
- understand the causes of the monsoon (knowledge of the causes of other types of rain is not required)
- describe and explain the characteristics of the climate of the arid, semi-arid, humid and highland regions, including seasonal variations
- know the influence of latitude and longitude on day length and climate
- understand the influence of the climate (both the benefits it brings and the problems it causes) on the economy and on the lives of the people:
 - the influence of low temperature, ice and snow on the lives of people in the mountains
 - the influence of rain storms and flooding on agriculture, industry and communications
 - the problems caused by drought and shortage of water supply on agriculture and industry.

2. Natural resources – an issue of sustainability

a) Water

Candidates should be able to:

- identify on a map the Mangla, Tarbela and Warsak dams, and name two examples of barrages
- understand the importance of water as a resource; understand how supplies for agricultural, industrial and domestic purposes are obtained, maintained and controlled as well as used; understand the reasons for, and consequences of, the Indus Water Treaty
- explain and evaluate the causes of and solutions to the problems of water supply (including pollution)
- understand the value of water as a resource for development
- explain and evaluate how water supply issues can lead to conflict.

b) Forests

Candidates should be able to:

- understand the different types of forest and identify, on a map, their main locations
- understand the physical factors that control the distribution of the different types of forest, and the human factors which have reduced their extent
- understand the reasons for:
 - the development of plantations in the Indus Plain
 - afforestation on mountain slopes and plateaux
- understand the value of forests as a resource for development, and the importance of their sustainability
- explain the effects of deforestation, such as soil erosion, silting and flooding
- evaluate possible solutions to the problems caused by deforestation.

c) Mineral resources

Candidates should be able to:

- identify the main locations of limestone, gypsum and rock salt extraction from a map, and understand their uses
- identify the main metallic and non-metallic mineral resources of Pakistan, and in what quantities they:
 - are extracted
 - exist as reserves
- understand the extent to which these can be exploited
- describe the environmental problems caused by mineral extraction
- evaluate the benefits of developing mineral resources and understand the sustainability of extraction
- identify the main imported minerals, where they come from, and in what quantities.

d) Fish

Candidates should be able to:

- describe the fishing methods used in both marine and inland waters, including fish farms
- give examples of the fish caught in both marine and inland waters, and of the fish reared on fish farms
- give examples of the fishing ports on both the Balochistan and Sindh coasts
- describe the uses of the fish caught
- explain improvements in fishing methods and processing techniques
- understand the problems facing the fishing industry and evaluate the possibilities for its further development and sustainability.

3. Power

a) Sources

Candidates should be able to:

- describe, with the help of a simple diagram for each method, how non-renewable fuels (coal, crude oil and natural gas) are extracted:
 - coal as obtained by open cast, adit and shaft mining methods
 - natural gas and crude oil obtained by exploration and drilling
- understand the difference between renewable and non-renewable sources of electricity
- explain (briefly) how electricity can be generated from renewable resources (hydel, wind, solar, and other possibilities such as wave, tidal, biofuels, geothermal)
- understand the importance of power sources for development.

b) Non-renewables

Candidates should be able to:

- describe the quality and the amount of coal available from within Pakistan and how long reserves are likely to last, and also describe the types of coal which have to be imported for industrial purposes
- describe how coal both produced in Pakistan and imported is transported to the end users
- state how much natural gas is produced by Pakistan, and how long reserves are likely to last
- describe the extent of the natural gas pipeline network in Pakistan and explain how natural gas can be taken to those parts of Pakistan away from the pipelines, and the limitations of doing this
- state how much oil is produced by Pakistan, how long reserves will last and how much oil is imported, and explain why it is necessary to import large amounts of oil
- describe the extent of the oil pipeline network in Pakistan and describe the other methods that are used to transport both imported oil and oil produced in Pakistan
- understand that electricity can be generated in a variety of ways. In thermal power stations by burning coal, oil, gas and waste, or with nuclear energy; or with renewable sources e.g. water (including hydel), the wind and the sun
- understand that non-renewable power sources are running out, and are increasing in price.

c) Renewables

Candidates should be able to:

- explain and evaluate the advantages and disadvantages of the different methods of producing electricity from renewable resources (generated by water, wind, wave and sun)
- understand the physical and human conditions that favour the development of multi-purpose hydel schemes
- state and explain the factors, both physical and human, which promote or hinder the availability of electricity and other power resources listed, including the feasibility of small-scale, renewable power generation
- explain why the supply of electricity is not sufficient or reliable to develop many parts of Pakistan.

4. Agricultural development

a) Agricultural systems

Candidates should be able to:

- understand how small-scale subsistence farming, cash crop farming and livestock farming operate as systems made up of inputs, processes and outputs.

b) Crops and livestock

Candidates should be able to:

- identify on a map the main areas where cotton, rice, sugar cane and wheat are grown, and the main areas where buffalo, cattle, goats, sheep and poultry are reared
- recognise (from photographs) fields of cotton, rice, sugar cane and wheat; recognise (from photographs) buffalo, cattle, goats, sheep and poultry
- state the uses of the crops named above
- state the main products of the livestock named above and the uses of those products
- identify the main areas for the cultivation and growth of each of the following: apples, apricots, bananas, dates, maize, mangoes, millet, oilseeds, oranges, pulses, tobacco and vegetables. Know why they are grown there and state an important use of each.

c) Factors affecting production

Natural factors: topography, climate (for both kharif and rabi crops), soils, pests and diseases

Human factors: capital, labour, size of holdings, farming practices, irrigation (types and methods), waterlogging and salinity (including solutions), governmental actions to increase production

Candidates should be able to:

- explain how natural and human factors affect production on small-scale subsistence farms, including:
 - rice grown using traditional methods of ploughing, transplanting, irrigating, harvesting and threshing on small, fragmented holdings using family labour
 - wheat grown in areas dependent upon rainfall (barani farming areas)
 - dates and vegetables grown using karez irrigation in a desert oasis
- explain how natural factors, including climatic requirements, and human factors affect the production of cotton, rice, sugar cane (kharif crops) and of wheat (a rabi crop) under the cash crop farming system
- explain how natural and human factors affect livestock farming (poultry farming, the keeping of buffalo and cattle, the keeping of livestock) on small-scale subsistence farms and the keeping of cattle, goats and sheep on a nomadic or semi-nomadic basis, including transhumance
- describe the different types of irrigation and explain the advantages and disadvantages of each for small-scale subsistence farming, and for the growing of cotton, rice, sugar cane and wheat:
 - canal irrigation – karez, inundation and perennial canal
 - lift irrigation – persian wheel and tubewell
 - understand the roles of dams, barrages, link canals, distribution canals, field channels and bunds
- explain the causes of waterlogging and salinity, and:
 - explain how land damaged by it can be restored
 - evaluate how agricultural practice and water management can be improved to prevent it happening
- understand how government action has helped to increase production through land reforms, the promotion of training and the use of machinery, chemicals, improved seeds and other means
- understand and evaluate the possibilities for and problems of the development of agriculture and its sustainability.

5. Industrial development

a) Understanding common terms

Candidates should:

- understand the meaning of the terms raw materials, refined, processed, manufactured and value-added
- understand the meaning of the terms infrastructure and services
- be able to define the terms primary industry, secondary industry, and tertiary industry.

b) Secondary and tertiary industries

Processing and manufacturing industries to be studied: cement, cotton (from ginning to clothing), sugar refining, crafts, fertiliser, iron and steel, brick, oil refining, sports goods, surgical instruments. Tourism.

Candidates should be able to:

- understand the definitions used in Pakistan to distinguish between large-scale industry, small-scale industry and cottage industry
- state the main products of the listed industries and whether they are destined for the domestic market and/or for the export market
- state the main locations of the listed industries and explain the factors influencing location and development – capital, site, sources of raw materials, power, water, labour, communications, government policy and other means
- understand the differences between the formal sector and informal sector of industry
- understand the range of services provided by the informal sector, and their advantages and disadvantages to the development of Pakistan
- understand the importance of both the formal and informal sectors, and evaluate the contributions of both sectors to the development of the listed industries
- understand sources of capital and labour
- state and explain how the governing authorities promote industrial growth
- name examples of export processing zones and other industrial estates, explain the reasons for their development and describe their characteristics
- assess the feasibility of using global communications to enhance employment opportunities in service industries, e.g. call centres
- state and describe briefly, with an example of each, some of the natural and cultural attractions of Pakistan that are, or could be made available to tourists
- assess the feasibility of developing tourism as a means of increasing employment, development, gross national product (GNP) and gross domestic product (GDP).

6. Trade

a) Major exports and imports

Candidates should be able to:

- name the main exports and imports
- describe the changes in the types/amounts/value of goods exported and imported in recent years
- know and understand the meaning of GNP and GDP and the difference between them
- explain the effect of changing trends in exports and imports on Pakistan's balance of trade and economy.

b) Pakistan's trading partners

Candidates should be able to:

- name and locate Pakistan's main trading partners, and name the goods Pakistan exported to them or imported from them
- understand the factors which may promote or hinder trade with other countries, and explain why it is difficult for Pakistan as a developing country to maintain or increase its share of trade with other countries
- understand the factors that may promote and limit trade, including trading blocs, trade barriers and currency exchange rates.

7. Transport and telecommunications

a) Internal transport

Candidates should be able to:

- interpret maps to describe the regional variations in the density and pattern of the road, rail and air transport networks within Pakistan
- explain the factors which help and hinder the location, maintenance and development of roads, railways and airports
- describe improvements that have recently taken place in road, rail and air communications, and consider the feasibility of new developments
- compare the advantages and disadvantages of road, rail and air transport within Pakistan for both goods and people
- evaluate the development of new transport schemes, including motorway and airport development.

b) International transport

Candidates should be able to:

- identify on a map those roads (including the name of the pass they use, where relevant) and railways which cross the international boundary and are in use for at least part of the year
- identify on a map the ports of Keamari, Qasim and Gwadar, and the cities with international airports
- explain the factors which affect the location and development of cross-border roads and railways, seaports, dry ports and airports
- explain what is meant by the term dry port, name an example of one and explain why they have been developed in many cities of Pakistan.

c) Telecommunications

Candidates should be able to:

- explain the importance of radio, television, phones, fax machines, emails and the internet in the fields of education, industry, services and trade
- understand the problems of providing telecommunications in some parts of Pakistan
- evaluate the role of telecommunications in the development of Pakistan.

8. Population and employment

a) Structure and growth

Candidates should be able to:

- understand the changing population structures (both age and sex) as shown by population pyramids for Pakistan
- explain and evaluate the effects of the present and projected population structures on the economy and development of Pakistan
- interpret graphs and statistics illustrating birth rates, death rates and the rates of natural increase in Pakistan, and identify trends in population growth
- explain the social, educational, economic and political factors which contribute to population growth over time
- explain the problems for development caused by population growth over time, consider its sustainability and evaluate possible solutions to these problems.

b) Movements of population

Candidates should be able to:

- describe and explain, with reference to both 'push' and 'pull' factors, the main causes of population movements, including rural-urban migration, seasonal migration, emigration and immigration (including refugees)
- describe and explain the effects of these population movements, including shanty developments in cities, tent cities and the de-population of rural areas
- understand the effects of population movements and evaluate the measures which may be taken to help solve the problems created, such as self-help schemes, provision of clean water and other services (including adverse outcomes such as poor housing).

c) Distribution and density of population

Candidates should be able to:

- distinguish between distribution of population and density of population
- recognise the variations in both distribution of population and density of population between the Provinces (including the Northern Area) and within the Provinces (including within the Northern Area)
- explain the physical, economic, social and political factors which contribute to these variations.

d) Employment

Candidates should be able to:

- define the terms primary, secondary and tertiary in relation to occupations
- describe and explain the proportions of the workforce engaged in each of the primary, secondary and tertiary sectors, and any changes in these proportions that may have taken place or may be taking place
- understand and explain the causes of rural and urban unemployment and underemployment (that is, people who are not fully employed), and understand the problems for development created by underemployment and unemployment
- describe and explain the availability of skilled labour (people qualified for the professions, for management and as technicians, etc.) and manual labour
- understand that unemployment and underemployment can be factors that influence GNP and GDP
- understand and evaluate the importance for Pakistan's development of literacy, education and training for both males and females, in rural as well as urban areas.

7. Glossary of terms for Paper 2

This glossary of terms for Paper 2: The Environment of Pakistan should prove helpful to teachers and candidates as a guide, although it is not exhaustive and the descriptions of meanings have been kept brief. Candidates should appreciate that the meaning of a term must depend in part on its context. They should also note that the number of marks allocated for any part of a question is a guide to the depth of treatment required for the answer.

Annotate	Add labels or notes or short comments, usually to a diagram, map or photograph, to describe or explain.
Assess	Weigh up the factors for and against a proposal and come to a judgement.
Calculate	Work out a numerical answer.
Compare	Explain what is similar and different about two things. For a comparison, two elements or themes are required. (Two separate descriptions do not make a comparison)
Contrast	Explain the differences between two things.
Define	Explain the meaning of a term or phrase.
Describe	Write about what something is like or where it is. Describe may be used in questions about resources (on a figure, a table, etc.) in the question paper (e.g. describe the trend of a graph, the location of an industry on a map, etc.). It may also be used when you need to describe something from memory (e.g. describe a doab, etc.). Describe is often linked with other command words such as name and describe (name the feature and say what it is like), describe and explain (write about what it is like and give reasons for ...).
Describe the distribution	Write about the location of the required feature(s) as shown on the map(s) provided, by referring to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – their relationship to other features shown, e.g. the provinces and rivers – their density in particular areas.
Describe the pattern of	Write about the location of the required feature(s) as shown on the map(s) provided, by referring to particular arrangements such as nucleated, linear, parallel, even spacing, etc. and, where relevant, locating the patterns in relation to the provinces and rivers, or any other features shown on the map(s) provided.
Draw	Make a sketch showing the required features. Draw may be extended to draw a labelled diagram (draw a diagram with written notes to identify its features).
Explain/account for/ give reasons for	Show with reasons why something occurs or happens.
Evaluate	Consider the evidence for and against a proposal, and come to a judgement.
Giving your views/ comment on	Explain what you think about something.
How	Explain in what way/to what extent/by what means/methods something happens.
Identify	Pick out something from information given in text or on a map/diagram/etc.

Illustrating your answer, describe/explain	Describe/explain with the help of specific examples or diagrams. The command may be extended to require a diagram: Illustrate your answer with a labelled diagram.
Insert/label	Place specific names or details on a map/diagram/etc. in response to a particular requirement.
Justify	Explain why you chose something or why you think in a certain way about an issue.
List	Identify and name a number of features to meet a particular purpose.
Locate	Find where something is placed or state where something is found or mark it on a map or diagram.
Name	State or specify or identify. Give the word or words by which a specific feature is known or give examples which illustrate a particular feature.
Predict	Use your own knowledge and understanding to explain what might happen next, and justify your reasoning. Probably information will be provided to help you to come to a decision.
Refer to/with reference to	Write an answer which uses some of the ideas provided on a map/photograph/diagram/etc. or other additional material such as a case study.
State	Refer to an aspect of a particular feature by a short statement or by a few words or by a single word.
Study	Look carefully at; usually at one of the resources (a figure, a table, etc.) in the question paper.
Suggest	Explain your ideas on or your knowledge about the given topic. It is often coupled with why ; this requires a statement or an explanatory statement referring to one or more particular feature(s).
To what extent	Give the reasons for and against the proposal in the question and justify.
Use/using the information provided	Base your answer on the information you have been given.
With the help of information	Write an answer which uses some/all of the information provided, as well as additional information from your own knowledge.
What	What is used to form a question concerned with the selection of ideas/details/factors.
What differences are	Use comparative statements to state the differences involved or the changes that have occurred or are shown between two points on a map/diagram/etc. Complete descriptions of the two things are not required.
Where	State at what place/to what place/from what place.
Why	Explain the cause(s) of or the reason(s) for or the consequence(s) of something.

8. Other information

Equality and inclusion

Cambridge International Examinations has taken great care in the preparation of this syllabus and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind. To comply with the UK Equality Act (2010), Cambridge has designed this qualification with the aim of avoiding direct and indirect discrimination.

The standard assessment arrangements may present unnecessary barriers for candidates with disabilities or learning difficulties. Arrangements can be put in place for these candidates to enable them to access the assessments and receive recognition of their attainment. Access arrangements will not be agreed if they give candidates an unfair advantage over others or if they compromise the standards being assessed.

Candidates who are unable to access the assessment of any component may be eligible to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Information on access arrangements is found in the Cambridge Handbook which can be downloaded from the website www.cie.org.uk/examsofficer

Language

This syllabus and the associated assessment materials are available in English only.

Grading and reporting

Cambridge IGCSE results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D, E, F or G indicating the standard achieved, A* being the highest and G the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for grade G. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no results) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

Entry codes

To maintain the security of our examinations, we produce question papers for different areas of the world, known as 'administrative zones'. Where the component entry code has two digits, the first digit is the component number given in the syllabus. The second digit is the location code, specific to an administrative zone. Information about entry codes can be found in the Cambridge Guide to Making Entries.
